BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THIS PROGRAM

Accounting. In these tough times, accountants still are in demand. In order to look at career options we take a field trip to the Federal Reserve downtown. Colleges still demand accounting expertise not just data entry as do businesses, therefore we spend time getting to know accounting on a very personal level.

And we always keep in mind that it was an ACCOUNTANT who finally took Al Capone down.

SPECIAL FEATURES OF THIS PROGRAM

Accounting students develop a wealth of knowledge in the ways of keeping accurate records and being able to account for money and property.

Our trip to the Federal Reserve gives students a first-hand look at our money system and how it works.

Well trained accountants have a world of opportunity available to them.
